Blind Creek Babbings,

Have you made your Income Tax returns?

Mrs. W. E. Noble and children are visiting Mrs. C. F. Hardy.

Miss Blanche Chaffin, of Blackie, is residing over the kitchen.

Ed. Thorne and Ed. Kopyra were in Calgary the fore part of the week.

We will soon be getting our mail out from Campbell Island of Blackie.

N. C. Phillips drove into High River recently and brought home his wife and new baby girl.

Mrs. N. J. Robinson has returned home from the hospital in Calgary, and is still confined to her bed.

Harold Ward, of Dutton, is in our neighborhood this week taking piano. He is sporting a new Ford Roadster, and a fine tuning piano is a good job.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Hatcher and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sawyer are in High River visitors the early part of the week.

The mail contractor on the Blackie-Blind Creek line is making the trip to stop there this week. He is keeping a train at each end of the route now.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hardy have returned from the winter spent at their home in Blackie. They brought back a three months old baby whom they adopted.

Mission Closes

The managers acted by a committee of ladies arranged a very pleasant gathering on Saturday evening when the choir and mission workers met in a social way. After practice lunch was served and after practice lunch was served and after practice lunch was served.

As near as the Snake Creek gold strike came to reaching us was that the great post master at Blain, Jack Johnson, got to Blain, but he was a Klondike soundographer, so can be excused such actions.

The Zopher family is had to beat. They appeared on their spring, their numbers many more than when they holed up last fall, and their last "batches" about all grown when they first got on the scene this spring.

P. T. Rhoades is around with a petition asking for a new post office to be established on the new Blackfoot line. This is a great needed and will be a great convenience to the residents. Until the building of the line to Carleton place it could not be supplied, as it was too far from Blackie. The carrier from Carleton place to Blackie and a new office nearby.

Should Farmers Join the U. F. A.?

BY JOHN GLAMBECK

Do we need a People's Government in Canada that would protect the interest of the common people instead of the big interest?

In conclusion let me point to the latest, unworkable and unsatisfactory way the settling up of this great country is being done by the government. I have already mentioned how in earlier times private individuals and corporations obtained possession of the national natural resources, such as land, timber, coal and minerals, and without doubt whatever there is left of natural resources in the far north will also be given away in the same manner under the government change very soon.

In going into a new country to take up land and try to make a home, most people expect some hard experience to start with, but a whole lot of this experience could just as well be avoided if the government was willing to adopt a different policy. Let us, for instance, point to the settlement of the Peace River country. Up there we have millions of acres of as the land as there is to be found anywhere in Canada, and for a number of years intending farmers from everywhere have been invited by the government to settle there, with the result that the homesteads are practically all gone and the country fairly well settled up.

But what has the government done for these invited settlers by way of transportation after they settled down to come? What has the government done by way of helping these settlers to get their products to market?

The answer is, little or nothing. There are practically no railways and no market facilities either east or west. So it is of little use for these settlers to raise anything if it cannot be sold. The R.C. and H.C. railway, practically the only road built so far into that country, "is a joke." According to statements made recently by representatives from Peace River and elsewhere, the R.C. and H.C. railway, that road is a farce and practically worthless, and all that our provincial governments have had to say in defence of this worthless road and equipment was that it was as good as other railways at a similar early stage.

According to statements in the Herald, farmers in Grand Prairie and Peace River country, after hauling their wheat from 50 to 80 miles, have found the elevators filled, no cars going out, and there was no lumber to be had and so they had to build granaries they had to dump their wheat in piles along the railroad track, and much what they had would grade No. 1 earlier in the year than the wheat in the west.

Had a representative people's government in Canada, the government would have been run differently, and before leaving the settlers to come into the Peace River district and risk their last dollar in the Peace River district.

Here is another instance: A writer in the Farmers' Magazine describes the great farming possibilities in the vast, hidden unknown Northwest. This writer, who has travelled over great stretches of foot and by rail and canoe, and has seen the rich soil and the great farms, tells us that more than forty million acres are available for settlement, and that the land is so good that it will yield more than 100 bushels of wheat, oats and barley, and that it will also yield corn, clover and timothy, and that the land is so good that it will yield more than 100 bushels of wheat, oats and barley, and that it will also yield corn, clover and timothy.

From markets.

That this enormous stretch of country will be settled there can be no doubt, but to settle it under present conditions means terrible privation and hardship to the settlers. Here again, a real people's government would come to the assistance of the settlers. Those corporations who now hold land out of use should be taxed so high that they would be glad to dispose of it at a reasonable price to the settlers. Railroads should be extended and possible roads built, so it would be possible for the settlers to bring their product to town. Money at low terms, and at low interest should be furnished to settlers who need it, and no means should be spent in the beginning to help these settlers get a start.

The present Union Government is apparently spreading sleepless night, revolting about the spread of unrest, revolutionary propaganda and socialism, and it is spending large sums of money paying silos to watch labor or strikers.

let us proceed.

But it is useless to expect anything in the way of reform from the present government. With few exceptions every member is coward and controlled by the big financial interests and must do their bidding. The time has now come for the farmers and the workers to wake up and organize both industrially and politically, and every farmer, if he wants better conditions, if he wants more of the fruits of the labor, must join the U.F.A. economic and political organization. As farmers we are not an unimportant class. We do not want to live on somebody else's labor, and we ask for no special privileges. (Continued on page 9.)

For Canadians to Consider

The national debt of Canada has now reached a figure of approximately $3,000,000,000. This is the gross debt. The net debt, that is after deduction of assets has been made, is now around $2,000,000,000. It must be borne in mind, however, that many items included in the statement of assets are not such in the recognized commercial meaning of the term; in fact, no considerable portion of what are termed assets are, for the time being at least, more in the nature of liabilities. For example, Canada has some hundreds of millions of dollars invested in the National Railways, and the latter are regarded as an asset, but as a matter of fact and common knowledge these railways are not earning operating expenses, not to mention interest on the capital invested in them. Consequently, in casting up the national balance sheet, the people must be taxed to meet both operating deficits and the whole interest outlay on the money invested in, and the stocks, bonds and debentures outstanding against these railways.

For the current year it is estimated that no less a sum than $350,000,000 will be required to meet ordinary expenditures, and a further substantial addition must be made to the national debt to cover certain capital expenditures to which the country is already committed and which cannot be avoided.

Of this $350,000,000, about $125,000,000 will be eaten up as interest on the public debt. In the neighborhood of $50,000,000 will be required to cover operating deficits and interest payments on account of the national railways. Thus these two items alone will dispose of one-half of the entire revenue.

Out of the remaining $175,000,000 some tens of millions must be paid out in pensions, vocational training for soldiers, hospital accommodation and treatment for soldiers, and in various forms of soldiers' civil re-establishment work. Some millions are to be spent in grants on a population basis to the provinces for highway construction; a few millions will be used to meet the deficit in the operation of the post office department; and all the expenses of government, including the Civil Service, administration of justice, militia and police establishment, subsidies to the provinces, and all the multiplicity of services devolving upon the Federal Government must be met.

The people of Canada, who are the taxpayers, and who must bear the burden of providing the money to meet all these obligations, must seriously consider the national situation, and especially so at times when they may be inclined to urge additional expenditures of one kind or another for very laudable and even necessary purposes. Canada must, however, curtail its expenditures to a point where they can be covered by the revenue. This country cannot continue living on borrowed money and by going still deeper into debt. There must be national as well as individual retrenchment. Instead of getting deeper into debt, the time approaches when we must agree to still heavier taxation in order to begin the process of liquidating the national debt, as it is now being done in Great Britain.

There is nothing in the national situation, however, to despair over or become pessimistic about. Canada has the resources and the energy and the ability to meet all its obligations, proceed with its development, and add to the wealth, prosperity and happiness of its people. But it cannot be accomplished by continual criticism, by seeking to tear down existing institutions in order to apply a lot of unbacked theories and untested methods. The world, Canada included, has had enough of destruction within the past five or six years. What is now necessary is constructive enterprise, and that can only be brought about by work, and by people generally realizing that it is impossible to get something for nothing; that, on the contrary, the present tendency of most people to be slackers at their job, to insist upon double the wages formerly received in return for about half as much labor and effort on their part, must be abandoned.

Hard work is in sight for most of us. If we do not make up our minds to undertake such work now, buckle down to our jobs, and produce to the maximum of our powers in whatever occupation we may be engaged, at the same time cutting out luxuries, and saving the last possible dollar—well, we are but slightly delaying the time when dire force of necessity will compel us to do these things, and the longer the delay before doing what we ought to do, the greater the loss and the more severe the penalty will be.

If we don't eliminate luxuries and save now; if we still think we can produce less and consume more; if we continue to delude ourselves that we can indefinitely continue to receive double pay for half as much work, nothing can prevent hard times. If such times come as a result of our folly, we will not only do without luxuries, but may find ourselves hard pressed to obtain necessities.

There is only one solution, in Canada as elsewhere. It is not theorizing; it is work—hard, practical, productive work.

Scottish Strategy

Two American soldiers attended a show in Brooklyn recently, one of the features of which was a company of Scottish pipers. Neither of the Americans, enthused over the melodies and both were much perplexed by the fashion in which the performers marched up and down while rendering their selections. "What makes them move about that way?" asked one of the soldiers. A light broke on his comrade. "I'll tell you why it is," he replied; "it makes them harder to hit."

More Draastic Methods

If the Sinn Feiners were carrying on operations under the stars and stripes, instead of the Union Jack, the whole Sinn Fein movement, like ancient Gaul, could be divided into three parts—one part in the graveyard; one part in the penitentiary; and the other part in process of being shot into the cells or the cemetery.—Toronto Telegram.

Site for B. C. University

The British Columbia government has decided on Point Grey in Vancouver as the permanent site for the Provincial University, and has secured 3,000 acres for the purpose. The undertaking will be financed by means of a $300,000 loan, and construction work to the extent of at least $500,000 is to be proceeded with this year.

Demand for Men Better

34,440 Workers Were Placed During Month of March

The employment situation in Canada is improving, according to figures published in the Labor Gazette for April. The employment service connected with the department of labor placed altogether 34,400 people in employment during the month of March and received 41,700 applications for employment. The department was notified of 38,200 vacancies. All these figures represent an increase over the previous month and the previous year. There was a steady increase in employment in all provinces except the prairies, where a decline was reported.

There was less loss of time due to strikes in March, 22 strikes were reported, involving 3,789 people and representing a loss of 43,169 working days. Sixteen strikes remained unsettled at the end of the month. Reports were received from five conciliation boards and applications were received for five more. Two boards were appointed in addition to those on application received previously.

National Research Institute

Institution Would Meet The Requirements for Developing the Natural Resources

Plans for the establishment of a national research institute for Canada, were before the commons committee on scientific research recently. It was recommended that a site of at least 5 acres should be secured near Ottawa and a building of laboratory type four stories in height, to cost $500,000 to be erected.

The scientific instruments required would cost approximately $100,000 and salaries would require about $100,000 per annum.

This institute would be similar to the bureau of standards at Washington and the Mellon institute at Pittsburgh. It was felt that such an institution would meet the most pressing requirements for developing natural resources and make provision for assistance to Canadian industries.

A bill covering the establishment of such an institution is to be drafted by a sub-committee composed of Dr. S. B. Steele, Dr. Thompson (Yukon), and Dr. R. J. Manion (Fort William), who will report back to the committee.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet. A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

A Satisfied Farmer

This Country Cannot Be Beaten For Mixed Farming

I have lived in the Kitscoty district for fourteen years, and have a half section under cultivation, and have farmed ever since coming to the country, and have grown wheat, oats, barley and flax. Wheat has yielded from 28 to 51 bushels per acre; oats from 60 to 110 bushels, barley 35 to 45 and flax 15 to 20 bushels per acre. I had a failure the season of 1918 owing to hail, the only hail I have had since coming to the country. I might say that my wheat has always graded never lower than Number Three in the thirteen crops I have harvested. I am well satisfied with the district for grain growing, and I have had at times over one hundred head of cattle. I don't think the country can be beaten for mixed farming. We have first-class soil; good water, and a good climate, all we need is more and better farmers.

Make A Home on the Farm

A Farm Must Be Self-supporting Before A Farmer Can Become A Contented Home-maker

One cause of the present unrest among the farming population of the west is the lack of home times. What do I mean by that? I mean, that the average settler in the semi-arid region regards himself as a temporary occupant of the land rather than as a permanent fixture—a permanent citizen of the country. As a result of this feeling he has not developed the home-making trait. He intends to get a big crop sometime and sell out to someone from the east. No country can be prosperous until the farmers have a settled determination not only to live in the country but to die there. A community without graveyard is an uncertain quantity.

The farm home must be self-supporting. The farmer who sells his hogs and buys ham and bacon, who sells his cream and buys butter and the farmer who raises cattle and lives on condensed milk, will never become a contented home-maker.

A one-crop system will never develop a contented community. The farmer must first of all be a "nester"—he must be rooted to his farm in so far as he regards it as a home for himself and his family.

A wheat farm will never become a home, neither will a cattle-ranch nor a sheep ranch. A farm home that is sustained by a few cows, hens, hogs, sheep and sufficient of other stock, including goats, to consume the forage of the farm will hold a contented family. And without contentment there is no permanence.

The last three years have demonstrated the futility of trying to develop a country with one crop. The farmers of the so-called dry farming states must diversify their crops, plant corn, Sudan grass, millet, rye, barley and other crops that can be fed on the place. Then get by any means possible the stock to feed it up and and there will be no returning to the homes in the east and middle west.

A farm home without chickens and calves, and pigs and lambs, and colts is like a home without children. It is a misfortune for any child to be born and raised on a farm that is not stocked with animal pets.

The farm home must be self-sustaining. We must get back to some of the customs of our fathers when nearly everything that was needed by the family was produced at home; when the farm made its own sugar, raised its own honey, killed its meat and made its butter and soap, when the cellar was filled with everything that was good to eat, and the garret with dried fruit. We as farmers may be forced to go back to the days of spinning and weaving to clothe the family, for at the present rate of increase of cost there will be no other way. We must abandon the idea that the farm is a factory and make of it a home where we can live and escape to some degree the profiteer—we must make a home of the farm.—Scientific Farmer.

For Good Films

Manitoba Takes Lead in Encouraging British and Canadian Sentiment

The Good Films Committee desire to go on record as being heartily in accord with all movements tending to raise the standard of Motion Picture entertainments in Manitoba with a view to encouraging British and Canadian sentiment and clean ideals of family life.

The committee urge a closer co-operation between the board of censors and the citizen in order that the public may have a fuller understanding of the wide-spread influence of this universal form of recreation, which is undoubtedly doing much to mould the sentiment of the rising generation. It is strongly advocated that constantly recurring ideas and suggestions in pictures dealing with seduction and infidelity; shady methods of divorce; vicious underworld characters and methods of life; sex immorality; and the depiction of assault upon women be suppressed.

The lead taken by Manitoba in this connection might well be followed by the other prairie provinces. The educational value of the moving picture is second only to our newspapers, and it is therefore of paramount importance that pictures depicting only the highest and best ideals should be shown. Let everyone interest themselves in helping to raise the standard of motion picture-productions.

Useful

Statisticians say that there are 25,000 Canadians who can neither read nor write. But if they can work, they will still be of great value to the country. Many of those who can read and write in a dozen languages are useless when it comes to production.

Value of Canadian Farms Increases

B. C. Leads in Value for the Whole of the Dominion

In the past five years the value of Canadian farms has risen by $14 per acre or 36.8 per cent., according to estimates of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The average value of an acre of farm land in the Dominion in 1919 was $52 per acre, as compared with $46 the previous year, $44 in 1917, $41 in 1916, $40 in 1915, and $38 in 1914. These steady annual rises in farm values bear glowing tribute to the agricultural progress of the Dominion and the rich productivity of the Canadian soil. They would also indicate a wide-awake class of agriculturists alive to the importance of study and science in their pursuit.

The province of Ontario with an average of $66 per acre, and Quebec with $72 per acre are above the average in the Dominion. In Prince Edward Island the value has risen from $44, the highest previous value, to $51, whilst Nova Scotia shows an increase of from $36 in 1918 to $41. The value of New Brunswick farm lands in 1910 was placed at $19 per acre, $29 in 1916, $35 in 1918, and $32 last year. Western lands have seen steady rises. In Manitoba, whilst fluctuating between $29 in 1910 and $32 in 1918, the value rose to $35 in 1919. In Saskatchewan, the value in 1919 was $32, a rise of $3 from the previous year and $6 since 1914. Alberta lands increased in value from $21 in 1914 to $27 in 1917 and $29 in 1919. By provinces, the value is highest in British Columbia, being valued at an average of $174 per acre.

CHILDREN OF ALL AGES

Children of all ages—whether it be the new-born babe or the growing child—have to be constantly guarded as to their health. Upon the good health of the little one largely depends his strength and usefulness in after years. Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal home medicine for children of all ages. They are a gentle but thorough laxative which are absolutely guaranteed to be free from opiates or other harmful drugs and which may be given to the youngest child with perfect safety and beneficial results. Through their action on the bowels and stomach they banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. Mothers, you can make your little one well and keep them well by just keeping a box of the Tablets at hand and by giving an occasional dose to the baby to keep his little bowels regular and his stomach sweet. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Drama of the War

The Meeting Before the Battle of the Marne

For days General French had manoeuvred his retreat, fighting a rearguard action against the tremendous odds. No one knew what the morrow might bring to the already exhausted army.

Accompanied by three staff officers one of whom was with us that evening at dinner, French had reached an inn not many miles from Paris. He had not slept for thirty hours. To his chief of staff he said:

"I am going to take a little sleep. Under no circumstances must I be disturbed."

After what seemed to him a few moments there was a loud rapping at the door. Opening it with a vigorous protest at being aroused, he found one of his officers, who said:

"I am extremely sorry to have disturbed you sir, but the matter is most urgent."

"What is it?" demanded French. "General Joffre is below, sir, and desires to see you."

The British commander-in-chief descended to the dingy main room of the cafe. Wrapped in his cape stood "Papa" Joffre, with only one aide.

"I have decided to take a stand. Here is the plan," said the Frenchman.

On a wine-spattered table and by the light of a guttering candle, Joffre unfolded the plan of the engagement that ended the Kaiser's dream of conquest forever. He then showed his colleague that immortal "order of the day," which included the phrase, "the hour has come to advance at any cost and to die where you stand, rather than give way," and which was read to the French army at dawn. I doubt if the whole drama of the war presented a scene more striking than the spectacle of these two chieftains seated in that shabby room of an obscure country tavern on the eve of one of the world's epic events.—Isaac F. Marcossion, in "Records of an Interview."

Smoke Screens

Secret Used With Great Success By The British Navy

The secret of the smoke screens used with such great success by the British Navy in the raids on Ostend and Zeebrugge is definitely disclosed. They were produced from an acid, which has to be burned in the presence of a sufficient amount of water vapor, otherwise the smoke produced even over the sea, is liable to be somewhat thin on dry land.

Commander Brock, who sacrificed his life in the assault on the German defences at the Belgian ports, devised the plan to feed the acid in a fine spray into the funnel of a destroyer, where the temperature was sufficient to vaporize the acid, and the water vapor present completed the formation of a cloud.

The triple alliance of Germany, Austria and Italy was formed March 13, 1887.

Wolves in Manitoba

Says Wolves Do Most Everything But Vote

According to Christopher Possett, station agent at Gunton village, a short distance from Winnipeg, the only thing wolves don't insist on doing in his town is voting. Possett was in the city to get Provincial permission to carry a gun and says the wolves know the railroad timetables as well as the chief despatcher and come in droves to meet the incoming trains. What grieves Possett most is that recently he had a sugar-cured ham put off the train for his own consumption, and in a race for the meat between himself and a pair of wolves he lost. He was given the permit, bought a gun and loaded up with enough ammunition to last him a year or two.

Supreme Council To Deal With The German Problem

Toronto.—The San Remo correspondence of Main says he has been informed that the propositions of Premier Nitti and Lloyd George on the question of dealing with Germany are submitted in a suggestion that Germany be invited to take part in the conference here. The premier indicated, in making the suggestion, that Germany in person would be desirable as a means of making the discussion of the future and economic relations between Germany and her former enemies proceed on the basis of the best results.

However, adds the correspondent, the representations of Premier Nitti and British premier that they had taken the wrong view of the situation decided that discussion of the German problem should be confined to the members of the supreme council. The German note requesting a revision of the military clauses of the peace treaty, so that Germany should maintain an army of 200,000 men with a general reserve of 300,000, has been brought about by the League of Nations has been received by the president of the San Remo conference, the correspondent reports. In British circles, it is believed, he stated that the discussion of this note will necessitate a prolongation of the length of the conference.

Question of Compensation for Munitions Killed At Party Sold On Under Consideration
London.—The government has guaranteed that all active munitions returned from overseas are properly stored and guaranteed to be handled as before being used for exhibition purposes. This information was given to James Arthur, of Party Sold On, to the house of commons the other day.
Mr. Arthur asked whether a claim had been made for compensation for the death of Mr. Alve, who was killed at Party Sold On full by the explosion of a trench mortar supposed to be harmless. He was told that such a claim had been made and that the question of making provision for the family of Mr. Alve was under consideration.

Alies to Execute Turkish Treaty By Military Force

San Remo.—The supreme council of the allies is fully prepared to execute the Turkish treaty by military force if necessary.
The council has accepted a plan drawn up for the employment of the Turkish army by Marshal Foch, Sir Henry Wilson, British chief of staff, and General Badoglio, commander in chief of the Italian army.
Two hundred thousand allied troops were within the last week of the Turkish Empire, strategically disposed and these forces can be increased, if Turkish resistance is developed, to any essential number. Greece will probably supply the largest number of troops.
Supplementary naval plans were announced by the chief of the British fleet, Admiral Jellicoe.

Bridges Damaged Owing to Floods

Calgary.—From information secured from some of the coal operators of the Drumheller valley served by the Canadian Northern Railway, it will be a matter of some days before the bridges can be repaired sufficiently for the movement of traffic. It is stated that there are sixty-five bridges in a distance of twenty miles, and that fifteen of them are in a damaged condition owing to the floods. In some cases the bridges are submerged to a depth of more than four feet of water. Coal stores in Calgary are being kept very low, at half of the coal used here from Drumheller. The principal supply of coal is coming from Edmonton district.

Indemnities for Canada

Canada's Claim Against Germany Is Now Being Completed
Ottawa.—The amount of Canada's claim against Germany is now being completed for presentation to the tribunal created in the peace treaty.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, in answering a series of questions by Thomas Hay in the House of Commons, today stated that the treaty of peace limits and defines the claims which may be presented by the allied and associated power against Germany. In so far as Canada has expended money or incurred obligations under the treaty, she has a claim.

The government is taking the necessary steps to see that the claims are properly presented. He stated that it is not true that Australia and other British colonies have all received additional territory by way of indemnity. Brandram's Genuine BB WHITE LEAD
THEY used it for the stage-coach of olden days in England—we use it in Canada today. Compare it with any other white lead or white paint, and you will decide that your house—or anything you wish to have truly white and remain white—must be painted with this brand which has survived as the leading white lead for nearly two centuries. Thinned with linseed oil and turpentine, it makes a perfect white paint. Combined with coloring matter, it makes the satisfactory tinted points of any shade. It is the brand that finest of ready-mixed paint, B-H "English" Paint.

Made in a modern Canadian factory, and by the same process as was employed for its manufacture by its inventor in England, it is today the only survivor of all the patented white lead processes of that earlier generation. It has survived because it results in a white lead of exceptional fineness, whiteness and durability.

Should Farmers Join the U. F. A.?

We want to make farming a paying, pleasant and agreeable occupation. The question of production on the farm has been solved, and it has been, estimated that with agriculture, or, in other words, with the aid of modern improved farm machinery, 20,000 men could feed 2,000,000 people. Any farmer knows that he can produce all the way from 10 to 50 times more in an ordinary year than could his grandfather with his primitive tools. Why, then, should there be any want and suffering among the farming class? Why, then, is it that the army of rent farmers becomes greater every year? Why, then, is it that the farmer's acre and daughter leave the farm and go to the city? Why is it that the agricultural population is relatively decreasing and that many farmers give up in despair and go to the city to become modern and modern workers? Why is it that with all the aids of science and countless agricultural experiment stations agriculture is less attractive than it was to our fathers and grandfathers? Why have so many of the advances in civilization passed by the farmer? Why is agriculture a neglected if not a despised profession, and why among other industrial classes does the farmer feel that he is of least concern to the state?

You fellows who so far have refused to join the farmer's organization, can you answer these questions? If you don't know I can tell you. In a way it is the farmer's own fault. He has been too busy too confiding in the other fellows; he has been led around by the nose. In short, he has neglected to do his duty to himself and his class, and while the people in other industries have been making money and making politics their business the farmer has been sleeping, dreaming sweet dreams of independence, never suspecting that every time he voted for the other fellow's candidate he voted his independence away. But let the past be buried. It is still time to act and just as soon as every farmer joins the U.F.A. and votes the U.F.A. into the present political ticket on election day the relief of government will be in our hands, and we will make Canada

All are welcome and the big attraction will be the live-piece Jazz Orchestra. Something extra is promised in the jazz line that night. Don't miss it.

Secretary J. E. McCorkle, of the Fire Brigade, has sent out the following letter to the business men of Gleichen, who should know the new organization is on the job—

Dear Sir: The Gleichen Fire Brigade ask that all business places that have liquid chemical extinguishers, please see that they are tested and recharged. Most of the chemical extinguishers supposed to be recharged once every year, and so do you have the necessary instructions printed on it regarding this matter.

It is also recommended that all business places should have handy a ladder of some description that would be long enough to allow getting on to the roof of your building in case of a fire. Thanking you for your cooperation and attention to these matters.
